Though according to rules the period of probation is not taken into account does not qualify for increments, they were given two increments, when they were confirmed after two years probation, as a special case, counting the period of probation for increments. Sri Lakshminarasimhaiya applied for similar concession in November 47 and the university council did at a meeting held in March 1948, did not consider the request favourably and were of the opinion that reasons for turning down his request applied to his case was not similar to those of Janab Sarvari, Ramachandra Rao and Purushottam does not deserve any consideration without explaining how Sri Lakshminarasimhan's case cannot be compared with those of the other three officers

2) Sri Lakshminarasimhan requests that the date of his confirmation must be from the date of his acting appointment viz 27-7-44. But he was appointed in the leave vacancy caused by the grant of leave to his predecessor from 27-7-44. His predecessor's appointment ~~was~~ ended only 16-9-44, from which date only the vacancy became permanent. Therefore, if any special consideration is shown to him by condoning the date of period of his probation, the date of confirmation can only take effect from 16-9-44.

3) The request to condone the period of his probation and to count his service during probationary period are for orders (confidential reports of the officers are)

4) The vacancy of Professor of Sanskrit can be counted, substantively, only with effect from 16.9.44.

8 Time spent on probation does not normally count for increments - except where Government have specifically ordered that it does. In the case of Prof. Lakshminarasimhiah, Government have not ordered so. The University did not recommend it before, and they do not do so now. On the other hand, they have definitely turned down the Professor's representation once, and are of the opinion that the representation does not deserve any consideration.

9 The representation itself is not, however, without force, the relief asked for is ~~based on~~ not without precedent ~~decision and practice~~, and the Professor's appeal to Govt. against the decision of the University is a plea for the removal of what may be construed as discriminatory treatment as between members of Staff and direct recruits. The question, therefore, is, whether, in view of the representation, Prof. Lakshminarasimhiah may not be shown the same special consideration that has been shown in the case of (1) Janab Abdul Qadir Sarwari, (2) Dr. T. A. Purushotam, and (3) Dr. S. Ramachandra Rao, and allowed to count the probationary period of two years for increments. This is for orders.

10 The proposal requires financial concurrence, and the request, if granted, would be Council matter.

FROM

Registrar, University of Mysore,
MYSORE.

To

Sri A.C.Nirvani Gowda,B.A.,
Education Secretary to the Government of
His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore,Bangalore.

Sir,

I am directed to forward herewith a representation, with its enclosures received from Sri M.Lakshminarasimhiah, Professor of Sanskrit, Maharaja's College, Mysore, addressed to the Education Secretary, appealing to Government to give effect to his confirmation as Professor from the date of his first appointment, viz., 27-7-1944, to enable him to draw the increments from that date, I am directed to state that the Professor had submitted to the University a similar representation in November 1947. The subject was considered by the University Council at the meeting held on 22-3-1948, and it was resolved "that since this case is not on a par with the other cases cited by Mr.M.Lakshminarasimhiah, no recommendation be made to Government"

Sri M.Lakshminarasimhiah was specifically appointed on probation for two years in G.O.No.E.5618/Uni.6-44-74, dated 16th May 1945 and No.E.1883-4/Uni-2-45-3 dated 6-10-1945. He was confirmed on completion of the probationary period with effect from 27th July 1946 in G.O.No.E.7843-44/Uni.1-46-29 dated 26th April 1947. There is therefore no question of his confirmation from 27th July 1944 as the post did not fall permanently vacant until 16-9-1944.

The other cases referred to in the Council Resolution are those of(1) Janab Abdul Qadir Sarwari, Professor of Urdu (2)Dr.T.A.Purushottam, Professor of Philosophy and (3) Dr.S.Ramachandra Rao, Professor of Physics. In these cases two increments were granted by Government from the date of their confirmation, the probationary period of two years also being counted for increments, on special considerations.

I am to add that Sri Lakshminarasimhiah, who was appointed Assistant Professor of Sanskrit on 24-6-1936 in grade Rs.200-25/2-300 reached the maximum of the grade viz. Rs.300/- on 24-6-1944. He was appointed Ag.Professor on Rs.400/- with effect

Sir,

I solicit your kind permission to submit, for benign consideration of Government, the following facts:-

1. As an employee of the Mysore University, I have to my credit a record of loyal and efficient service for nearly 24 years. Having broken the record by taking a First Class in the Sanskrit M.A. Examination of 1924, I started service in February 1925, as a Tutor in the University. I was promoted to the Professorship of Sanskrit in July 1944, having run the usual terms as Lecturer and Assistant Professor. I would submit that I was appointed Professor, not merely because I was the senior-most member on the staff of the Department, but also because I was deemed most competent for the place by a special Committee, after considering the claims of many candidates who, in response to an advertisement, had applied even from abroad.

2. But, unlike Assistant Professors in other subjects, who, in similar circumstances, were promoted permanently to the Professorships in the respective subjects, I was put on probation for two years, which will not count for purposes of increments. In this respect I was ranked with outsiders who were recruited to Professorships in the University.

3. I was hoping that, in case I proved my fitness for confirmation by satisfactory work during the period of probation, I would not be a heavy loser even by being ranked with outsiders, since, after confirmation, the condition of probation was waived in their cases. When I submitted, like them, a representation in this behalf (A) (a copy of it has been submitted herewith), the University kindly issued an endorsement to the effect that my case was not on a par with theirs (B) (a copy of the endorsement has been submitted herewith). That we were put on probation for two years and were confirmed on successful completion of the period of probation is common to them and me. If, on special consideration, a favour was conferred on recruits to the University, the claims of a permanent employee would naturally be stronger than theirs, for such favour.

4. As stated in para 2 above, a disparity in treatment introduced earlier, meant a serious set-back to me and ~~where~~ when, on other grounds, I get a claim for preferment, the earlier disparity is urged to discountenance the parity that is applicable to me. The University has not found cause to ask me even to explain a lapse, much less to vindicate a misdemeanour. Even after issuing the endorsement noted in para 3 above, it has kindly sanctioned me a second increment, thus reiterating its approval of my work and character.

Hence, being compelled to do so, and yet most reluctantly, I would submit this humble appeal and pray Government kindly to give effect to my confirmation as Professor from the date of first appointment i.e., 27-7-1944 and enable me to draw the increments as due from that date.

Yours faithfully,

Mysore,

Sir,

I would submit for kind consideration and favourable orders of the University, the following facts:-

1. I am grateful to the University for kindly confirming me and granting me an increment in the grade Rs. 400-25-700. I am compelled, at the same time, to submit that I have been hit very hard by the condition of probation for two years which I had to pass through, before confirmation.

2. It was after nearly 20 years of service and only when I was 46 years old, that I was promoted to the Professorship. To my knowledge, in some cases of promotion to Professorship of the Asst. Professors of the University, the condition of probation has not been imposed and the incumbents have been confirmed with effect from the dates of their first appointment as Professors. Thus even the short and broken periods of acting service rendered by them on previous occasions would count for purposes of increment. But, in my case, acting service which should have counted for purposes of increment was converted into service on probation and confirmation also took effect only two years after the date of first appointment, thus depriving me of two increments.

3. Again, the condition of probation imposed on certain Professors who were appointed in the University for the first time, has been waived and increments have been granted to them for the period of probation also.

4. The facts stated above would clearly show how I stand out as an unique case which has lost certain benefits which have accrued to the permanent employees and new entrants, while, as a permanent employee of the University, I would be fully entitled to them, Since I have been promoted to the Professorship late in life, even waiving the condition and granting the increments concerned, will not enable me to earn the maximum in the grade of a Junior Professor.

In these circumstances, I would request the University to be kind enough to consider the facts stated above and give effect to my confirmation from the date of my first appointment
